“Uyarvukku Padi” - Guidance program

Venue: Don Bosco College of Arts and Science, Keela Eral

Date: 14.09.2024

Keela Eral Don Bosco College of Arts and Science; Tamil Nadu Skill Development Corporation organized a guidance program “Uyarvukku Padi” for drop out students to get higher education in the college. The event was presided over by Tuticorin District Collector K. Ilambhagwat, who delivered an inspiring speech on effective study methods and the benefits of pursuing higher education. His insights emphasized the importance of academic growth for both personal and professional development.

Various stalls were set up in the venue, representing multiple departments and organizations, including Backward Welfare, Adi Dravidar Welfare, Social Welfare, Employment Office, Bank Education Loans, Tamil Nadu Skill Development Corporation, 21 government and private colleges. These stalls provided valuable information and resources for students seeking further education and financial assistance.

During the event, the District Collector issued admission orders for 123 students, enabling them to join the college, marking a significant step towards enhancing their educational prospects.

The program also featured addresses from several prominent figures, including Education Officer Ganesh Murthy, Revenue Commissioner Mahalakshmi, Deputy Collector Satya, Principals from various educational institutions, Joint Director of Tamil Nadu Skill Development Corporation Ms. Angel Vijay Nirmala, District Welfare Officers from various departments, Pioneer Bank Manager and District Employment Officer. These speakers discussed the importance of higher education and the opportunities available to students.

The Uyarvukku Padi guidance program served as an important platform for students and their families, equipping them with the knowledge and resources necessary to navigate their educational journeys. The presence of esteemed officials and educational leaders underscored the community's commitment to fostering academic success. Don Bosco College Secretary Fr Dr. Rajadevan, College Principal Dr.M.Prabhu, College Nan Mudhalvan Program Co-ordinator Mr.S.Mohan Kumar were participated. Prof. Dr.Sivasankari hosted the event
